

Where else are you interviewing?
Is it just banking? Consulting?
Other companies?

Are you mostly interviewing at larger banks like us? What kinds of options within banking are you considering?

Before you entered business school, I see you switched jobs about once a year.

Just banking. You're not interested in consulting / other options and don't want to waste recruiters' time.

You need to say this even if you're so uncertain that you're deciding between opening a zebra ranch, going on a spiritual journey to Nepal, going back to McKinsey or starting a laundromat with your roommate's uncle.

Mostly larger banks, but you have received some interest from other places so you're looking at a couple options. If you can mention specific names, that makes your answer even better. If you're interviewing in a group like M&A or Healthcare, talk about how you're mostly speaking with similar groups to show you're serious about that one area.

How do I know that you're here to stay for the long-term?

Although you switched jobs pre-MBA, it's quite common to move when better opportunity arises. However, you've done a lot of research, spoken with friends, alumni and other connections and are certain banking is for you after doing your own due diligence. You've actually looked into other career options and nothing is as attractive to you as banking.